

Is The Sony PSP The Hottest Game System Available Today?

There isn't a question about it the PSP is the hottest new gaming system on the planet. Everyone wants one because every time I go into a gaming store someone is always asking do you have PSP consoles in stock. They get the sad answer and then leave to try and go find a store that has a console for sale. I think about the only place that you would be able to find a PSP console is at a pawn shop or in the trash broke. There are so many people that want a PSP that the supply is low and the demand is high. That is why Sony needs to make more PSP consoles so that nobody will have to go another day without one. Most video game consoles come with some type of accessories but not with the PSP. With the PSP you will have to buy all your own accessories and even though they may be a little expensive they are worth buying to keep your PSP working. I mean don't you think that you need some kind of accessories for your PSP. If you do not think that you need a screen film for your fragile playing screen then you just need to find or make your own accessories because the film on the screen is what helps keep the screen and the system clean when you are not playing it. That is why it is so important to buy a case for your PSP even though it is labeled as an accessory you still need a case to put your PSP in. Have you ever been right in the middle of a game that you are playing and then the game powers down and shuts off? Well now you do not have to worry about that ever happening because with the extended battery pack you can keep playing. Now you will not lose all your progress in your game and you can save it before your battery dies. That is possibly the main reason why people do not want a PSP or a console that operates on having to be battery operated, because they do not want to have to worry about the whole battery thing and how long the batteries will last and all that. People just want a gaming system that they just turn on and don't have to ever turn off. If you are going to want to save a lot of stuff on your PSP then you might want to order yourself a memory stick so that you can save all that stuff that is so important. If you are a gamer then you must have a memory stick. No questions asked. Even though a lot of people would agree that you need a lot of PSP accessories it seems like to be able to play the thing a lot. It is a good system and for the price it should be a little better but you cannot expect more from a company that just gave you the PS3.
